

Today's Quotation
"It is vain to find fault with those arts of deceiving, whereat men find pleasure to be deceived."
—John Locke

Now and then we come across a landmark editorial that demands reprinting in full for what it tells us about our generation and our country.

H. T. McIntosh wrote "Story of Two Old Kitchen Chairs" in the Albany (Ga.) Herald, and Southern Newspaper Publishers association thought it good enough to distribute to its 400 members. Mr. Mc-Intosh's piece follows:

They are not handsome chairs.
Their lines are not classical, nor are their "early American" in a sense that would tempt an antique dealer to bid high, to add to his stock.

They are about 130 years old, and a 250-pound man could stand on one of them without endangering himself or the chair. The seats are not cushioned, nor is there anything fancy about their texture.
They are cowhide bottoms, and the grazing quadruped from whose frame they were taken was probably an unpedigreed and undistinguished creature of the piney woods ranges.

But those old chairs are reminders of some things which are apt to be forgotten, though they ought to be remembered. They are honest chairs. There is not a loose joint in either of them. They were put together about the time Andrew Jackson was President by a workman who had no fancy ideas about furniture, but who could make the joints of a chair fit perfectly in a union that 130 years have failed to weaken.

But that pair of old chairs reminds me of how fast and how fast we have come since they were made. Family tradition has it that they were planned and put together in the family workshop. That it took several days to make a chair, after the materials had been assembled in the workshop. That the cow whose hide provided the bottom was killed on the place, and that the same hands which fashioned the chairs also made the kitchen and dining room tables, the cupboard, and the cradle for the first of a dozen babies.

For getting chairs and a table was not then a simple matter of going down to a furniture store,
selecting them, paying for them,
and having them delivered. The nearest furniture store may have been a hundred miles away. Cash money was too precious to be frittered away on things which could be made at home. When Grandfather and Grandmother were married they wore homemade clothes.
There were no "layettes" when the babies began coming at the rate of four or five every 10 years, and most family medicines were brewed in the kitchen where Grandmother knew what to do with sa-fras root, mullein, mustard, and half a dozen other items.

Life was simple then. Travel involved hardships, and rapid transit was unknown. There were no railroads. Communication by mail was slow and uncertain. The nation was still young. The Indian problem was yet to be settled, and large units of the Creek Nation were still in Georgia. Slavery would not be abolished for another 30 years, and a comfortable (for those days) dwelling of six or seven rooms could be built for less than a thousand dollars.

The two old chairs with cowhide bottoms probably were in daily use for 50 or 60 years. They show unmistakable evidences of that use,
but in neither of them is there hint of a squeak or a rattle. Shake them, throw them around, bang them against the wall. They are as strong, as squeakless and as time-defying as anything fashioned by human hands. They have outlived the easy-going times which produced them, and in their unadorned sturdiness there seems to be a rebuke for much of the show-iness and vainglory of this generation.

Ike Hopes GOP Can Agree on Foreign Policy

DENVER (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said today "I fervently hope" a foreign policy plank can be written into the Republican platform which would be acceptable both to him and to Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

The general told a news conference: "I don't want to see a bitter convention fight over this point."

This statement came after Eisenhower had pitched his campaign on a peace or war issue with Taft. He had grouped Taft among the nation's isolationists in a major foreign policy speech last night. A reporter asked if he was "trying to put Taft on the defensive" in the final stages of the campaign for the Republican presidential nomination.

Eisenhower replied: "No, no. I just believe that someone must preach the truth about these things."

In reply to another question he made it clear he believes Taft is among those who would "sit at home with an Air Force to be dispatched into the wild blue yonder" as America's major defense line.

He went on to say he did not believe himself that more retaliatory power is enough to win peace.

He was asked then if he thought meant by the word "isolationist." But he declined to make any precise definition, saying that it probably boiled down "how much we are ready to work and sacrifice for a great co-operative program of world peace."

He was asked then if he thought Taft as president would only give "half-hearted leadership" in a positive foreign policy program.

Again the general said he would not enter into personalities. Then he said his own belief was that "the United States must lead the free world's cause against the Godless dictatorship of Communism."

He released a letter written to John Foster Dulles, GOP foreign affairs leader, in which he outlined to Dulles the fundamentals of a foreign policy plank which would be acceptable to him. The letter was dated June 20.

In essence, Eisenhower said in the letter that America cannot live alone, that her form of life is threatened by the Communist dictatorship and America's policies must be developed for "our own enlightened self interest."

Then he said: "The minimum requirement of these programs is that we are able to trade freely, in spite of anything Russia may do, with those areas from which we obtain the raw materials that are vital to our country."

This means, he said, developing collective security measures for the free world. Then he added "only chaos in the world and eventual distress and worse for us would result from abandonment of the principle of collective security."

He said he was prepared to fight "to limit of my strength" for these basic principles in foreign policy. "I realize," he said, "that it will not be easy to write a statement that will accommodate some of the widely divergent views I have heard expressed on these vast subjects. I am certain that your understanding and determination are equal to the burden of carrying on the fight to include these essentials."

Liquor Trade Has Already Been Probed

By HARRY P. SNYDER

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House Republican raised the possibility of perjury proceedings today in the wake of conflicting testimony about the lack of anti-trust action against big liquor distillers.

Rep. Keating (R-N.Y.), senior minority member of a House judiciary subcommittee, mentioned perjury prosecution after the group heard a charge and a denial that the Justice Department issued a "whitewash" report on the liquor industry.

On this and on other subjects, Keating told newsmen, there was "square, clear-cut conflict" between yesterday's witnesses. He added, however, "We will have to wait until we've heard from other witnesses before we reach a decision on the matter of perjury."

Several new witnesses, representing the cooperative (whiskey barrel) industry, were called to testify today.

Three Escape in Auto, Horse Accident on No. 4

An auto driven by Herbert Griffin Jr., of Hope, was badly damaged early last night when a horse ran up the road bank on Highway No. 4 and crashed into the vehicle about 2 miles north of Washington. The animal was killed.

Young Griffin, another boy and a girl, escaped serious injury. Investigating State Officers Guy Downing and Travis Ward said the owner of the horse had not yet been identified.

Reds Warn of Continued Screening

By SAM SUMMERLIN

MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—Communist true negotiators today warned the United Nations that continued screening of prisoners at Koje Island may "extend the Korean War."

"You are taking dangerous steps which show that you do not hesitate to extend the Korean War," said North Korean Gen. Nam Il. Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison replied, "We cannot and will not barter the right to freedom of any individual. We recognize the individual as possessed of free will, not a slave bound without choice to a lifetime of servitude."

About 45,000 prisoners on Koje are being questioned to learn whether they want to go home. They are among prisoners who resisted screening last April when the U.N. got a "round figure" of 70,000 prisoners who want to be repatriated and some 100,000 who would fight being returned.

Allied refusal to repatriate any prisoner against his will is the main stumbling block to an armistice in Korea. Nam's warning came during an hour brief no-progress session at hot, dusty Panmunjom. Harrison suggested another short recess to let the Reds "reconsider and adjust" their position, but Nam insisted on another session at 11 a.m. Wednesday (9 p.m. EST Tuesday). Harrison agreed.

Court to Hear Removal of Ballot Name

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The Arkansas Supreme Court will hear a suit next Monday requesting removal of a candidate's name from the Democratic primary ballot because he allegedly paid his filing fee with an inadequate check.

State Sen. W. E. (Buck) Fletcher of near Scott, has charged that although the candidate later made the check good, the ticket already had closed. He contends that the candidate's name should not appear on the ballot in Lonoke county.

Fletcher named his opponent for position No. 1 in the 19th district, J. Twedell Gunter of Cabot, as defendant. Two years ago, Gunter—as Fletcher's opponent—at-tempted unsuccessfully to have the senator's nomination voided.

Fletcher appealed to the Supreme Court from Chancellor Guy E. Williams' decision against him. It appears that if the Supreme Court should rule in Fletcher's favor his opponent's name still could appear on the ballot in the district's three county units—White, Woodruff and Prairie.

Fletcher's attorney, E. M. Arnold of Little Rock, said Gunter's $100 check for the Lonoke county ballot fee was returned unpaid because of insufficient funds. Gunter made the check good but the Lonoke county Democratic Committee rule that his name would not appear on the ballot because the ticket had closed. I rescinded this action, Arnold said, after Gunter appeared in person before the Committee.

He said Fletcher, in the meantime, had paid the increased ballot fee required of unopposed candidates. The Court said yesterday it would hear the case next Monday in order to allow a decision by July 7, the court's final opinion day before summer recess.

STOCK MARKET
NEW YORK (UP)—Stocks moved irregularly at the opening in moderately active dealings. Changes throughout the list were extremely small. A number of leading issues held at their previous close.

Market news continued on the dull side and investors again centered their attentions on the steel situation. The uncertain foreign situation also dampened trading enthusiasm.

Fractional gains were noted in Southern Railway, Anaconda Copper, International Nickel and Goodrich.

Cloudbursts Hit Two States, No Relief Here

By United Press

Cloudbursts drenched Minnesota and northern Wisconsin areas today in the wake of tornadoes and hurricane-force winds that lashed eight north central states last night.

The storms that tore across the area yesterday caused at least one death. Several other persons were injured by twisters that flattened farm buildings.

The area battered by the storms included Nebraska, the Dakotas, Iowa, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana. Heavy rains in Indiana forced the White and Wabash rivers over their banks, flooding wide areas of farmland.

Duluth, Minn., was deluged by three inches of rain. One resident was killed when a lightning bolt struck his television antenna and coursed into the garage where he was working beneath his car.

Rochester, Minn., reported four inches of rainfall from a series of storms on Sunday and Monday. A tornado struck two farms near De Graff, Minn., leveling barns and telephone poles. Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mathews of Larabee, Ia., were injured slightly when a "baby twister" wrecked several farm homes in the vicinity.

Ninety-mile-an-hour gusts were reported at Okoboji Lake in Iowa and two airplanes were wrecked at Milford when the wind tossed them through the air. The wind also leveled an outdoor theater at Milford.

A thunderstorm hit Minneapolis and St. Paul shortly before midnight with 50 mile an hour winds. Sioux Falls, S. D., was hit by hurricane winds clocked at 90 m.p.h. which blew down the antenna tower of Radio Station KSOO and shattered department store windows.

Trees 20 inches thick were torn up by the roots and authorities warned residents to stay off the streets until live wires could be rendered non-dangerous. Some crop damage from hail was reported in Nebraska. Hailstones the size of hen's eggs fell near Lexington, Neb. At Omaha a severe thunderstorm tore branches from trees.

Severe fog Sunday night and early Monday was blamed for two plane crashes which killed five men. One crash killed two sportsmen near Marshallfield, Wis., Monday. The three other men were killed when their plane crashed near Marvin, S. D.

By The Associated Press

Today was Arkansas' 32nd consecutive day without rainfall of consequence, and the result looks disastrous for crops.

The forecast for today and tomorrow was clear to partly cloudy with no change in temperature. Blytheville was the state's hottest spot yesterday with a 104-degree maximum.

Other high readings included: Ozark 101; Morrilton 100; Wilson, Newport and Arkadelphia 99; Filipin and Pine Bluff 98; Batesville, Ft. Smith, Walnut Ridge and Camden 97; Little Rock and El Dorado 96, and Texarkana 95.

Allies Beyond 'Talking' Stage Now

TOKYO (AP)—The twilight war in Korea is beginning to burn with a bright new glow.

Unless an armistice is agreed upon soon, military observers feel certain full-scale fighting will break out again all along the line.

There are two reasons for the assumption.

1. Yesterday's 500-plane armistice attack on the North Korean hydroelectric plants is a warning to the Reds that unless they start talking soon, they can expect more of the same.

2. Both sides are fighting for ground now and the scrap west of Choson is for positions which the Reds won and the U. S. Eighth Army had to go after with real force to get back.

The smashing air attack left no doubt but that the United Nations is through pussy-footing.

Asked if Gen. Mark Clark would be making a statement regarding the change of policy which permitted the raid, an officer at the U.N. Far East headquarters said:

"Those dams and installations were military targets in North Korea. No statement is necessary."

Asked if there would be an explanation as to why they were bombed now, after pilots had been warned for months to leave them alone, he replied:

"You'll have to draw your own conclusion and it shouldn't be very hard to draw."

The natural conclusion is that after two years of flying around the big dams on the Yalu, the Far Eastern Air Force finally got orders to knock out the power plants because the U.N. Command decided it was time to get tough.

Vice Adm. C. Turner Joy, who tried vainly for 10 months to get the Reds to agree to an armistice, had a theory something like this: The willingness of the Communists to talk truce can be measured in ratio to the amount of military pressure the United Nations Command applies.

There hasn't been much military pressure since the cease-fire line was drawn last November. The front line has hardly changed a yard in seven months.

But last week, the fighting got hot again.

Morrilton Man to Head Holt Campaign

By The Associated Press
Jack Holt today announced the appointment of Arthur V. Ormond as Morrilton manager of his campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Ormond, 48, is an insurance and real estate broker. Aside from having served some 12 years as Morrilton city collector, this is his first venture in politics. He currently is secretary-treasurer of the Arkansas Basin Association, an organization for the promotion of flood control and bank stabilization along the Arkansas River.

Sees No Harm Done by Bombing

By RELMAN MORIN
HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio said today he does not believe the bombing of the Communist hydro-electric plants in Korea will lead to a third world war.

"We should have done it long ago," he added.

Paroles of Two Convicts Revoked

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—The paroles of two Arkansas convicts—one facing Kentucky robbery charges, the other in a federal penitentiary—were revoked yesterday by State Parole Officer "W. P. Bell."

Bell said 35-year-old James Bradshaw, paroled March 5 from a 2-year sentence in Mississippi County is being held at Marion, Ky. on armed robbery and assault to murder charges.

He said J. T. McDonald, paroled in 1951 from a 2-year sentence from Phillips County was sentenced May 9 in Northern Mississippi on a charge of robbing a Lambert, Mississippi bank.

SEATTLE (AP)—The U.S. Navy and Air Force today again struck enemy-held electrical plants in North Korea. The Navy said it hit the biggest air raid of the Korean War.

Nearly 200 Navy planes from big fleet carriers off Korea's east coast joined Air Force planes from the 5th Bomber Command in the biggest air raid of the Korean War.

SEATTLE (AP)—Five big hydroelectric plants which served Communist war industries in Manchuria and North Korea were hit by a smashing raid by 500 Allied planes.

There were strong hints that more Red targets are marked for attack.

Military officials in Washington said Monday's raid on Communist generating stations inaugurated a new "retaliation" policy adopted as a result of Red stalling in the armistice negotiations.

One spokesman who asked not to be identified said "we now realize the best chance for breaking the deadlock at Panmunjom is to hit the enemy with all the force at our command."

SEATTLE (AP)—An investigation into the death of a Little Rock Negro who died Saturday from injuries believed to have been incurred in a fall at the city jail, is being conducted.

Prosecutor Tom Downie, who ordered the investigation, said an autopsy performed yesterday by Dr. Anderson Nettleship, state coroner, indicated Green died from a head injury not sustained in the fall.

Downie said the 35-year-old man was arrested in a Little Rock harbor shop Saturday and died from a fall from a concrete floor below.

Patrolman D. C. Williams made the arrest, said he hit Green on the head with his fist during a scuffle when the man resisted arrest.

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Gov. Allan Shivers says the polio situation in Texas is at a critical stage and has called on alarmed Texans to mobilize against the disease.

Shivers yesterday asked cities and towns to clean up their back yards, their alleys and streets. He urged "Every member of every family" to help out by taking part in the cleanup drive.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said in New York the polio increase in Texas was more marked than in the rest of the nation.

Fifteen new polio cases were reported in hard-hit Houston yesterday, a record nine from within the city limits. About 200 cases have been reported in Harris County. The Foundation said emergency equipment had been shipped to Houston and Dr. G. Ford McGinnis, special epidemic coordinator for the National Foundation, was due there.

Memorial Hospital in Corpus Christi has treated 101 cases this year compared to 38 last year. Polio was called at the "mild epidemic stage" in San Antonio with 55 cases and eight deaths.

Randall Hospital at Dallas said Monday night it could take no more out-of-county polio cases. A spokesman said the hospital was forced to conserve its space for Dallas patients.

Ft. Worth polio cases climbed to 48 with three reported yesterday. Two new cases were reported in Dallas today, bringing the total to 100. Dallas is now at the "mild epidemic stage" with 55 cases and eight deaths.

Prides Nip Hope Rally in 9th, Win 6 to 5

A desperate try for home plate backfired on little Bob White last night and the Red River Prides edged Hope 6 to 5. If he had scored, it would have tied the contest.

Trailing 5 to 3 Hope rallied once in the final inning and had runners
on second and third with two outs.
Beasley slashed to deep short and beat it out. The runner on third scored and White was out at home ending the game.

However, it was the Prides' contest all the way as they outdid Hope in practically every department. Filagano singled in Hope's first run and they didn't get another until the sixth. Hits by Beasley and Shuffield added a pair in the sixth.

The visitors blasted the ball from the outset, scoring one in the second, another in the third,
a pair in the fourth and a single tally in the fifth and sixth innings, rolling up a 6-1 lead.

Edsl Nix, losing hurler, gave up six runs on 13 hits, walked four struck out three and Hope misused six errors.

Dave Pearce, winner, allowed three runs on seven hits, walked six, struck out three. His relief, Dick Pearce, allowed two runs on a hit and two walks. The Prides made two errors.

Hope goes to Hot Springs Wednesday night.
